How do we spark interest and build enthusiasm for family history?
“That he was a descendant of Joseph . . . who was preserved by the hand of the Lord.”

1 Nephi 5:14
Did Lehi feel a connection to his ancestor?
“And now when my father saw all these things, he was filled with the Spirit.”

1 Nephi 5:17
Start with Stories
Grandfather

NAME KARL IVAR SANDBERG

Stories and memories about him:

I never met my grandfather. He died when my dad was 10. That said, I probably know more about him than my other grandparents who I did meet. He was born in Sweden and immigrated to the US after he was involved in a hunting accident sometime around age 17. He eventually studied religions and came across a Book of Mormon in a public library in South Dakota. His conversion was powerful and led to his baptism along with many others - one of whom he married!

What strikes me most about him from his biography was his ability to solve problems and figure things out. He seemed to be unafraid to call someone how to do something and work until he solved his challenges.

- Place: Kyrke, Skruv, Ljude, Kransberg, Sweden
- Death Date: June 24, 1952

Grandmother

NAME MILDRED ELIZABETH NELSON

Stories and memories about her:

My grandmother Sandberg was an amazing woman who pretty much raised 6 children by herself after the death of her husband. She hired out the farm upkeep and took her kids to live in town (Gettysburg, S.D.). She was a hard-working lady - I recall she had very strong hands which you could not escape if she caught hold of you. She was very committed to the church and to God -- she served several missions. I remember her canned pears & cherries. She made me a patchwork quilt which I used for years - I have vivid, comforting memories of wrapping myself in that quilt, especially when I was sick.

- Birth Date: 13 Oct 1906
- Place: Blaisdon Township, Moody, South Dakota
- Death Date: 22 Sept 1989
