

How to Show Videos without an Internet Connection: Using a Laptop Computer

The Media Library has many videos you can play to help you teach gospel principles and enhance your gospel lessons. However, streaming the video over the meetinghouse's Internet connection is not always a possibility. To avoid potential problems with streaming, you can download the video ahead of time and then play it from a laptop computer. However, please be aware there are a few videos in the Media Library that are not available for download. This is due to copyright and intellectual property laws. We are striving to make as many of these videos available for download as possible, but in the meantime, those few videos will require Internet access to play.

Here are the instructions for downloading and showing videos on a laptop:

1. On your laptop, navigate to the video section of the Media Library and locate the video you would like to show.
2. Below the video you will see a Download link. Click Download.

The image shows a video player interface. At the top, the title 'Bible Videos - The Life of Jesus Christ' is displayed in a brown font. Below it, a video player shows a scene from a movie with the title 'Peter and John Continue Preaching the Gospel'. The video player includes a play button, a progress bar showing 00:00 out of 05:38, and icons for full screen and volume. Below the video player, the video title and a brief description are shown. A red arrow points to a 'DOWNLOAD' button with a download icon, which is highlighted with a red box.

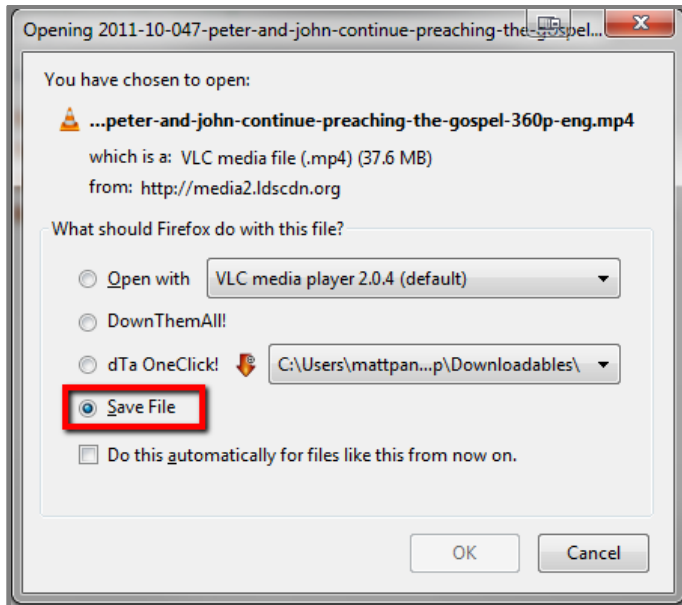

3. Select the size you want to download. Larger files take longer to download, but the video quality is better.

4. When you select a file size, the video may download automatically. If it does, look for it in your Downloads folder. We recommend moving the file from the Downloads folder to the desktop so you can find it easily.

- Depending on your browser, you may be presented with the option to select where you want to save the file before it downloads. Again, we suggest saving it on your desktop so you can find it easily, but you can save it anywhere. You may want to rename the file with a name that will help you remember what the video is about. Once you have renamed the file and specified where you want to save it, click Save.

- You can then take your laptop to class and play the downloaded video with the player of your choice.
